MURMELE MIT HERZ ...

DESCRIPTION

“Award winning nature photographer meets social media professional & content creator”

Do you want to get to know marmots and take beautiful photos? Then you are exactly right here!

Here you get the best of both worlds!

We spend a great day with our cute models, the marmots on the Grossglockner High Alpine Road and take cool photos and maybe videos.

I (Martina Gebert) have been photographing the animals for 10 years for calendars and postcards etc. and will support you with a lot of tips and tricks. You will learn all about "my" marmot family, learn how best to get good photos and – if you don't know already - learn the basics of photography.

Peter shows you his approach to photography, tells how to quickly create cool stories for social media and will also accompany the whole thing with video. You will then get the story as a reminder or to share!

We also have someone to help us attract and arrange the animals.

So: whether you are a hobby photographer with a dslr camera or are more interested in the marmots and take souvenir photos with your mobile phone: After the day you will bring a lot of great photos, helpful tips and wonderful memories home with you!

PROCEDURE

We meet at 8:00 a.m. at Kaiser Franz Josef Höhe. After getting to know each other briefly, we start right away with the first photos. We are happy to try to implement your ideas!

Experience has shown that it gets fuller and the marmots no longer participate, so we discuss the theory a little on site and questions can be asked.

After an extensive lunch, we would also have a seminar room available. We could do a picture review there if desired, alternatively I show a few other interesting photo spots on the Grossglockner High Alpine Road.

In the afternoon we continue with the marmots, we implement what we have learned and maybe try to film a little more with a cell phone or camera.

We stay until the marmots withdraw.

NOTES

We are outside in any weather, especially in "bad" conditions, special situations can arise. Therefore, please dress appropriately for the outdoors.

We are in the high mountains! Even if we do not climb or hike far, sturdy footwear, outdoor-appropriate and warm clothing and good sun protection are absolutely necessary. Please also note that it can be significantly colder at this altitude.
